

● Kronicles Disaster Recovery as a Service

Keep your employees productive and your business running in the event of a disaster with fully-equipped alternative work areas.

The top priority for an IT Manager is to induce the system back online after experiencing downtime. Most businesses depend on their IT infrastructure on a daily basis. With this we are able to offer a solution for you to take on your RTO (Recovery Time Objective) and RPO (Recovery Point Objective). These metrics define the businesses expectations of how soon and the point to which IT infrastructure should recover after shutdown for any reason.
